

President Roosevelt Opens His Campaign For A Fourth Term

Hard Hitting Speech Refutes
Charges Made By Orators Of GOP

By HOWARD FLIEGER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—President Roosevelt opened his fourth term campaign tonight with a hard hitting speech accusing the Republican opposition of attempting to claim credit for the New Deal. He charged that G. O. P. orators were guilty of "the most obvious common or garden variety of fraud."

Speaking before the AFL teamsters union, the President said the "whole purpose of Republican oratory these days x x x is to persuade the American people that the Democratic party was responsible for the 1929 crash and depression, and that the Republican party was responsible for all social progress under the new deal."

"There is one thing I am too old for," the President declared, "I cannot talk out of both sides of my mouth at the same time."

Replies To Criticism
Mr. Roosevelt made a point by point reply to almost every criticism leveled against his administration by his Republican opponent, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

He declared the government welcomes "all sincere supporters of the cause of effective world collaboration, adding that "millions of Republicans are with us."

"And they too will resent this campaign talk by those who first woke up to the facts of international life a few short months ago," when they began to study the polls of public opinion," the President said.

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking before the same union which heard him open his third term campaign on September 11, 1940, greeted the teamsters by saying:

"I am actually four years older—which seems to annoy some people. In fact, millions of us are more than 11 years older than when we started in to clear up the mess that was dumped in our laps in 1933."

From that he launched into an attack upon the Republican campaign, although he did not mention Governor Dewey by name.

Says Assertion False
He termed a "callous and brazen falsehood" an assertion that the administration plans "to keep men in the army when the war is over, because there might be no jobs for them in civil life."

"Why, Mr. Roosevelt continued, "the very day that this fantastic charge was first made, a formal plan for the method of speedy discharge of the army had already been announced by the war department—a plan based upon the wishes of the soldiers themselves."

Mr. Roosevelt said Republican leaders have carried the attacks against his administration even down to "include my little dog Fala. Unlike the members of my family he resents this."

The President said as soon as Fala heard that "Republican fiction writers" had made public a story that the dog was left behind in the Aleutians during the President's Pacific tour and had to be rescued by a destroyer at a cost of $20,000,000 "his Scotch soul was furious. He has not been the same dog since. x x x I think I have a right to object to libelous statements about my dog."

The President said the nation's military leaders are not helped by men who "without responsibility and without knowledge of the facts, lecture the chiefs of staff of the United States as to the best means of dividing our armed forces between the Atlantic and the Pacific, between the army and the navy, and among the commanding generals of the different theaters of war."

Reconversion "Be In Jobs"
Replying to Governor Dewey's repeated charge that the administration has been unable to solve unemployment, the President said the keynote of his entire reconversion program can be found in the word "jobs."

He said the government will lease or dispose of plants and facilities on the basis of how they can be used best to give jobs to the greatest number, asserting:

"We shall follow a wage policy that will sustain the purchasing power of labor—for that means more production and more jobs."

"This is not the time in which men can be forgotten as they were in the Republican catastrophe which we inherited."

"There are some politicians who kept their heads buried deep in

Churches Have Undertaken To Help UNRRA

Will Collect
Clothing For War
Stricken Countries

At the request of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, Roman Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant congregations throughout Sedalia and Pettis county, representing all faiths and creeds, have undertaken to collect, during the week of October 1, new and used clothing to meet the urgent needs of war-stricken peoples in liberated countries during the coming winter, according to an announcement made public today by the Rev. William C. Bessmer, Jr., president of the Ministerial Alliance. Participating in the local drive as part of the national effort to collect 15 million pounds of clothing will be Sacred Heart and St. Patrick Roman Catholic churches, Temple Beth El, Fifth Street Methodist, First Methodist, Epworth Methodist, Calvary Episcopal, Smithton Methodist, Broadway Presbyterian, Trinity Lutheran, First Baptist, Immanuel Evangelical—Reformed, First Christian, Assembly of God, Church of the Open Bible, Federated Congregational-Presbyterian, East Broadway Christian, East Sedalia Baptist, and Free Methodist churches with the U. S. O. and the Salvation Army. Clothing should be taken to the McGrath building, 308-310 South Ohio avenue during the week of October 1 or to the churches participating in the drive.

Free To Needy
All clothing will be distributed free to needy men, women and children in liberated areas, through UNRRA.

The need is for new and good serviceable used clothing. The following types are indicated:

Infants' garments: all types are in urgent demand, particularly knit goods. Men's and boys' garments: overcoats, topcoats, suits, jackets, shirts, work clothes such as overalls and coveralls, sweaters, underwear, robes, pajamas.

Women's and girls' garments: coats, jackets, skirts, sweaters, dresses, underwear, aprons jumpers, smocks, robes, nightwear.

Bedding: blankets, afgans, sheets, pillows cases, quilts, etc.

Clothing need not be in perfect repair, but must be such as will be useful to the people who receive it. Cotton garments should be washed, but need not be ironed. Rags, evening clothes, shoes and rubber goods are not wanted in this collection.

Clothing Needed
The need for clothing in Europe today is second only to the continued need for actual materials of war according to authoritative statements. Food stockpiles have been created to take care of emergency needs. But the garments worn by the people of liberated countries, or those who people hope soon to be liberated, are threadbare from use, and because of military priorities, manufacture of cloth or clothing in sufficient quantities to take care of urgent demands will not get under way for some time.

Throughout the nation, churches and synagogues, large and small, in cities, towns and villages, are responding to this appeal from UNRRA and making preparations for their local collection. Committees are being appointed in the local churches and synagogues, and these committees are calling upon local individuals and organizations to assist them to find the necessary clothing and to arrange for its packing in boxes of 50 to 100 pounds and their delivery to the nearest freight station. From there UNRRA will pay the freight to regional warehouses, where the clothing will be baled for immediate shipment to Europe. Shipping space has been assured, so that the clothing may reach those for whose use it is intended in the shortest possible time. Goods collected in this drive will be marked to indicate that the clothing was made available by the religious groups of the United States.

Appeal To Church Members
UNRRA officials stress that this is distinctly an appeal to the religious community—through the local church or synagogue and its members, friends and neighbors. It is possible that a highly organized and publicized all-out community drive may be necessary later, but now they are looking to local religious groups to respond in this emergency and furnish the clothing so sorely needed during the coming winter.

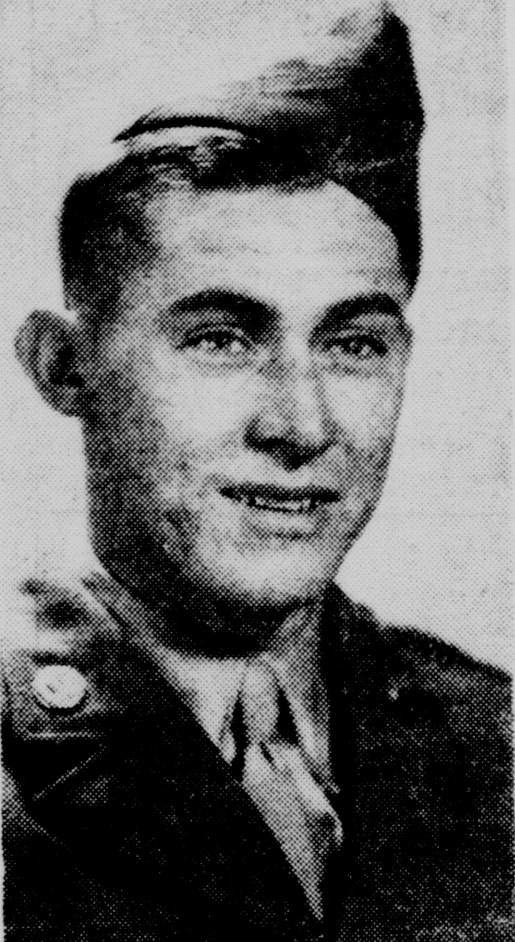

National agencies of the three faiths are working with UNRRA in forwarding this effort.

New Gains In Palau Islands

U. S. Marines In Control Of Three-Fourths Of Pelleliu

By VERN HAUGLAND
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 23.—(P)—Punching out new gains on Japan's strategic Pelleliu in the Palau islands 515 miles east of the Philippines, American marines were reported by fleet headquarters today to have battled their way northward a thousand or more yards Friday and engulfed the west coast village of Garekoru.

The Leathernecks now control about three-fourths of the island. As the Yanks conquest of Pelleliu quickened, even in the face of furious Japanese resistance, other Marines occupied a small unnamed island off the east coast a thousand yards north of American-held Ngabed.

The battling in the Palau islands, and the recent carrier plane raids on the Manila area, were underscored by a Japanese radio broadcast Saturday stating that the Philippines puppet government had declared war on the United States and Britain.

Tear Into Barges
American patrol vessels sighted and tore into seven Japanese barges Friday in a narrow channel separating Pelleliu and Ngehebus islands. One barge was sunk. The others, driven onto Pelleliu beaches, were destroyed by naval gunfire and bombing and strafing planes. It was not known whether the Japanese were attempting to reinforce their Pelleliu defenders or to evacuate survivors of the bloody battling with the marines.

The navy communique said Japanese dead on Pelleliu through Friday reached a total of 7,020 out of an estimated original garrison of 10,000. The enemy dead on Angaur, already conquered by American soldiers of the Wildcat division, totaled 950. Angaur is six miles southwest of Pelleliu.

The marines on Pelleliu already control the airfield and the east coast. Slowly but surely they are driving the surviving Japanese northward up the west coast from strongly fortified positions on "Bloody Nose ridge."

Blood Bank
October 9-13

The Red Cross will have its next Blood Bank in Pettis County, at the Elks Home, from October 9 through 13, and plans are already being made for its operation.

Registration begins Monday. Appointments may be made by calling telephone 130, or contacting the Red Cross office.

Blood is still badly needed, and will be needed for a long time after the war is over. Military men and women will be in hospitals for some time to come, and the value of blood plasma to them is known to all.

This year the plan is to have two separate lists, one for those who have made appointments, the other for those who have not. It will then be necessary to take those who have made appointments before the others, therefore it is hoped that appointments will not only be many, but will be made early, preferably this week.

Ration Board Continues To Close Tuesday Mornings

The Ration Board office will continue to be closed on Tuesdays until 1:00 o'clock.

Car and Bicycle Taken, Later Found

The 1935 Ford sedan of C. R. Grimes, LaMonte, reported stolen from near Fourth street and Montetau avenue, shortly before 8:30 o'clock Friday night, was found about 4:30 o'clock Saturday morning parked behind the Griddle on East Fifth street. It was found by Night Merchant Officer Joe Gresham.

The car was taken to police headquarters.

A bicycle belonging to H. W. Harris, 118 West Seventh street, which was stolen Friday night, was left at Fourth street and Montetau; the car and bicycle have been returned to its owner.

Russians To The West Coast

Port Of Parnau Captured On The Gulf Of Riga

By W. W. HERCHER
LONDON, Sept. 23.—(P)—Russian troops racing across Estonia reached the west coast today, capturing the port of Parnau on the Gulf of Riga and sealing off thousands of Germans caught between there and fallen Tallinn, Estonian capital 72 miles to the north.

Premier-Marshals Joseph Stalin in an order of the day announced the capture of Parnau, Estonia's second port, a few hours after Berlin radio said that the Red army had begun a "major attack" near the Hungarian-annexed Transylvanian capital of Cluj aimed at trapping all Axis troops in eastern Hungary and Slovakia.

Moscow dispatches also said that an entry into pre-war Hungary was imminent, and an unconfirmed French radio broadcast said the Red army already had crossed the Hungarian border and was "advancing in the direction of Budapest," Magyar capital.

The fall of Parnu represented another 50-mile leap by Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army forces in 24 hours. The port, at the northeastern end of the Gulf of Riga 97 miles north of the Latvian capital of Riga, lies 50 miles southwest of Paide, junction city taken Friday by Russian units which cut toward the gulf while other forces seized Tallinn.

Govorov's troops were engaged in a race to envelop scores of thousands of beaten Germans routed amid the lakes and forests of Estonia and who are fleeing toward the imperilled Riga corridor.

The Soviet daily communique said the Russians under Govorov had captured 700 localities for a week's bag of 3,600, while Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's Third Baltic army captured 80 villages in attacks radiating from Valga on the Estonian-Latvian border.

The Soviet communique said that Russian aircraft attacked both Parnu and Riga Friday night, sinking ships badly needed by the enemy for the evacuation of the troops, blowing up Nazi military dumps and starting tremendous fires amid other installations.

Thousands of other Germans apparently perished at sea because the bulletin said that Red naval airmen pursuing enemy ships which had pulled out of Tallinn ahead of the victorious Russian land forces had sunk 11 German transports in the Gulf of Finland during Friday.

Three transports and one enemy minesweeper were seriously damaged, the bulletin said.

Red Cross Offers
New Training Course

With the promise of V-day coming closer, the American Red Cross, with the returning veterans in mind, is offering to the women of Sedalia a training course in Home Service, the important liaison corps that works directly with the service man. In order that the veterans of the global war who will return to their homes in Pettis county may be helped to the fullest extent of Red Cross powers, they must have a well trained Home Service Corps. The course of instruction will be under a representative of the Area Office, in St. Louis. Registrations will be taken now. Call the Red Cross office, 618.

British Second Army In Relief March Near To "Lost Division"

Split In Group On the German Peace Policy

Hull And Stimson
Not In Accord
With Morgenthau

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(P)—President Roosevelt's cabinet committee on German peace policy has split wide open, it was learned today, over a plan sponsored by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau for completely destroying Germany as a modern industrial state and converting it into an agricultural country of small farms.

Morgenthau's plan drawn up after his recent return from European battlefronts and England, is reported to have had the general approval of the President since before his Quebec conference with Prime Minister Churchill.

It has failed to win support, however, from Secretary of State Hull and is violently opposed by War Secretary Stimson.

Hull, Stimson and Morgenthau form the cabinet committee.

For the time being the dispute over the Morgenthau plan has so snarled up Treasury, War and State Department work on detailed arrangements for postwar control of Germany that three-power planning by this country, Britain and Russia on long-range German policy also has virtually stalled. This planning, carried on through the European advisory commission, had been proceeding along lines other than those advocated by Morgenthau, so far as American leaders were concerned.

Impressed Plan Acceptable
Mr. Roosevelt presented the Morgenthau plan to Prime Minister Churchill at Quebec. Morgenthau and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were present. Stimson and Hull were not.

What Premier Stalin plans with respect to Germany apparently still is not known here. Morgenthau based his plan on three assumptions with respect to Russia: (A) Russia wants East Prussia and most of Silesia to go to Poland to offset Poland's loss of eastern territory to the Soviet Union; (B) Russia wants German labor battalions put to work on the Soviet Union reconstruction; (C) with her own huge needs for manpower, Russia is not interested in prolonged military occupation of Germany and would be willing to have Britain, the United States and other Allied countries do the job.

Desire Russia's Approval
Secretary Hull is known to be determined that whatever plan is decided on finally here must be agreeable to Russia. He feels that it is essential to have British-American-Soviet cooperation in immediate post-war Europe as a basis for long-range cooperation in a world security organization.

Morgenthau's plan as understood by those who have followed its development from the first to provide:

1. Removal from Germany to devastated countries of whatever industrial machinery those countries want; destruction of the rest of Germany's industry.

2. Permanent closing of whatever mines remain in the territory.

Roaming Of 'Possum Brings A Dilemma

For several nights Mrs. Lee Kester, 817 West Third street, has been hearing things in her back yard, and thought it might be a prowler, but hearing everyone talk about stray dogs and cats and making noises, decided to withhold a call for police. About 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning her sleep was disturbed again so decided to conduct her own investigation.

Quietly she went to the back door, and quickly switched on a light to see if there really was an intruder, a dog or cat and much to her surprise sitting on the back porch unconcerned was a "possum. The "possum had been a visitor at the home for several nights, but in the daytime disappeared, only to make his return visit in the "wee" hours of the morning.

The season is closed on "possum and now the worry is what can be done about the prowler who has invaded the city limits to disturb the peace of its citizenry.

Mrs. Abbie Hamilton, 56 years old, an ordained minister of the Pentecostal Church of God church doing missionary work, passed through Sedalia shortly after noon Saturday in her one horse rig, headed for Wichita, Kansas, where she expects to make her home. Her trip through Sedalia was uneventful for her, but interesting to those who watched the survey, loaded down with her cooking equipment, luggage, lanterns and so forth jaunt down Broadway, and south on highway 65.

"I'm going to Kansas, because of my health," she told a Democrat-Capital reporter. "The doctors told me I couldn't go back to my old home in Signaw, Mich., because of my health, and suggested the south, so Kansas here I come," she said.

Asked how she financed her trip she replied, "well you want a story, and all you reporter-men are always stopping me and asking me where I'm headed and I usually charge a nominal sum, so I expect some from you." The reporter said "you almost embarrass me, but here is a piece of change, and I hope I can put'er on the expense account." To which she replied, "you reporter-men can take care of yourselves."

"I take any kind of odd jobs, I am even a sign painter, and charge for them. I ain't afraid of work and don't expect nothing less I can deliver. I paint signs for farmers and get eggs and other things which I usually sell or trade for things I need."

"Well, to get along with the story, it isn't much, but I am an ordained Pentecostal minister-missionary. I have been preaching and doing missionary work since

Caravan Coming Of Democrats

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 23.—(P)—Two caravans of Democratic candidates will tour the campaign trail next week while Phil M. Donnelly, nominee for governor, campaigns by himself, Democratic state headquarters announced tonight.

Donnelly will speak Tuesday at Hartsville, Mansfield and Ava, Wednesday at Gainesville and West Plains; and Thursday at Willow Springs, Cabool and Houston.

A caravan including Roy McKittrick, Forrest Smith and Robert W. Winn—candidates for senator, auditor and treasurer, respectively—will visit Montetau county Tuesday and attend a labor meeting in Kansas City that night; John Cass county on Wednesday; Johnson county Thursday; LaFayette county Friday; and Pettis county on Saturday.

A second caravan including J. E. Taylor, Wilson Bell and Walter N. Davis—candidates for attorney general, secretary of state and lieutenant governor—will tour Maries and Miller counties on Tuesday; Osage and Gasconade Wednesday; Montgomery and Warren counties Thursday; Lincoln county Friday and St. Charles county Saturday.

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

Originality Is Undetected Plagiarism—
Dean Inge—

Without detracting from F.D.R.'s flair for originality of expression on occasion, it may be revealed that his famous salutation, "My friends!" is as old as Aristotle who, however, intensified the greeting more adequately than the commander-in-chief by declaiming: "My friends! There are no friends."

The Sky Above Is Blue—
There is something restful about the soft blue of a cloudless sky viewed in its dome shape out in the country. Several recent September days in Central Missouri must have been like those described by Byron:
"And they were canopied by the blue sky,
So cloudless, clear, and purely beautiful
That God alone was to be seen in heaven."
Just why the beautiful blue above the earth is reserved for man's appreciation is a bit of a mystery. But it is there. Yet 70,000 feet above ground we are told that to the human eye the golden sun is pure white on a sky background of deepest black.
Perhaps we may draw a moral from this—if man in his relationship with men would only keep his feet on the ground he might see only the peaceful blue of social well-being and never the darkness of strife and torment.

F.D.R. Changes Mind About Campaign Speeches—
There is a certain dignity about the presidential office that restrains one from resorting to a Bronx cheer when the incumbent resorts to thinly-veiled political craftiness.

President Roosevelt originally intended to remain aloof from presidential politics and nonchalantly told the public he did not intend "to campaign in the usual sense." F.D.R. is a smart operator. He was genuinely sure of himself and honestly convinced in his own mind that Dewey was not an important enough contender to give him much concern. So he attempted to brush off the little man with the mustache and make the people believe that the commander-in-chief had more important work ahead than "campaigning in the usual sense." Overshadowing political oratory would be excursions to Hawaii, to Quebec, etc., headlined to the folks at home as "the indispensable man on front line duty."

But little Thomas from New York went on the air and the public discovered that F.D.R. of the radio silver-tongue had competition. There is something compelling about Dewey's voice coming out of a loud speaker. This alone was not startling to the Boss. He also discovered that T.E.D. was a bit of a scrapper and saying things that smoked out the New Deal tribesmen to dignify accusations with hastily prepared replies lacking convincing vigor.

It is not characteristic of Mr. Roosevelt to adopt Quaker-like tactics in the political arena even though earlier he had "planned it that way" as a restful alternative to a strenuous campaign. Mr. Dewey is making too much progress and F.D.R. knows it. Hence the New Deal strategy is to be revised—Mr. Roosevelt will make more speeches than he intended to make. This decision stems not only from the importuning of the inner circle but as a matter of personal judgment: that the doctrine of indispensability requires a bit of oratorical needling of the American voter; otherwise the New Deal may not get away with a New Steal in 1944.

Family Barometer Best Indicator—
Glass vessels containing colored fluid that raises and lowers in a spout-like appendage, are objects of curiosity in many homes where the devices are hung on the wall or panelling. They are supposed to respond to Larametric influences, foretelling the weather by means of atmospheric pressure.

I have been on the verge of buying one of the gadgets until I learned scientists say that when the barometer is falling, husbands and wives quarrel more, and children become more unruly. When family tempers rise there's no need for a wall barometer to indicate a storm's a brewin' in more ways than one.

Peace In Our Time—
The program of drawing up a plan for international peace may yet be overshadowed by the need of one for Hollywood actors and actresses if cutting scrapes and pugilistic encounters out there are not abated.

Wooden Salutations—
"How do you do?" "How are You?"
Dozens of times a day you hear that wooden salutation fraught with about as much meaning as the latest amendment to an alphabet bureau directive.

In the first place if you greet a friend with "How do you do?" you are asking him just that; in other words, do you feel well and happy, or ill and depressed? Why then follow it up with the repetitive interrogation: "How Are You?"

How many persons using this form of greeting truly are concerned with the state of the other person's health? If the person addressed complains he is not up to par, the greeter on parting mumbles to himself that his friend is always crabbing about his health. If the person indicates he is in good spirit and the personification of health, the greeter turns away enviously muttering something about the other fellow always having the breaks even to feeling well all the time.

Then if it's not "How Do You Do," it's "good morning, good afternoon or good evening" despite the general condition of the weather which may be providing howling winds, drenching rains, a blizzard or just plain old Sahara heat.

Regardless of the apparent assiduity of our forms of greeting man to man, woman to woman, the custom prevails as one of courtesy for which there has not been established a capital.

substitute unless it be the current slogan receiving nation-wide attention:
"Vote for F.D.R. for Ex-President."

The Glory of the Carrot Leaves—
Tossing carrot leaves to the scrambling, squawking, chickens seems to be wasteful from the standpoint of relative values when the verdantly beautiful tops might be used as a part of the housewife's party attire. Sounds silly, but hold! Carrot leaves once were believed to be so decorative that English ladies of Queen Elizabeth's time wore them in their hair in place of feathers.

Knee-dress Exposure—
A difference of opinion exists as to the proper length of a woman's skirt. Some say it should be so many inches measured from the floor; others say it should fall an inch or two below the knee; or whatever current style dictates.

So far during this war there has not developed a tendency to shorten the skirts to above the knee. Remember the horrible experience a quarter of a century ago when women went around exposing knees?
That particular era must have taught the female a lesson because not one in ten women have a pretty knee. The knotty joints simply do not impress the men, whereas they will always gawk at a well-formed leg. But a pretty leg does not always support a pretty knee hence the practical-minded ladies for the most part keep it unexposed unless they are certain of its contours.

Percy Hammond put it this way:
"The human knee is a joint not an entertainment."

Wireless Site At Pettis and Mill—
Recently mention was made of a proposed wireless telegraph station to be built by the American DeForest company in Sedalia forty years ago. A main station was planned for Kansas City and the one here was to be a booster. Construction of the 210-foot tower was actually begun. In September 1904 it was half completed. A concrete base had been laid north of the old Sedalia Woolen Mills on the southeast corner of Mill and Pettis streets, north side. Pettis is the road leading to Crown Hill cemetery. The site was north of where the Farris Poultry Co. is now located. Remains of the wireless station base are still there although covered with vegetation.

Dog Eat Dog—
Rome's police chief under Nazi occupation provided 50 Italian hostages for execution because some German troops had been shot. After liberation of the Eternal City by Americans, the Rome chief was tried as a war criminal and executed. Now the Germans in northern Italy announce they will execute 40 Italian hostages in reprisal. If this sort of thing keeps on—Germans killing Italians and Italians killing Germans maybe the whole nasty situation over there might be solved without risking Allied lives.

A Matter of Position—
A Sedalia woman who has two sons in army service was visiting friends on a farm. While touring the barnyard she came upon a hired hand, a strapping youth of draft age, milking a cow.

Indignantly she asked: "Young man why aren't you at the front?"
"Because, mam, there ain't no milk at that end," came the reply.

Home Front Casualties—
Casualties from overseas will probably find the nearest some of the chair-warming second looies ever came to combat ailments was suffering shell-shock from eating peanuts in bed.

Goodbye, Forever—
A disgruntled taxpayer remarks that bread cast upon the waters may return, but the dough this country is casting across the waters won't.

Wagging Tongue Gathers No Moss—
After listening to a lengthy recital of her ailments, an exasperated doctor wrote out a prescription for the woman. On the verge of leaving, the woman remarked: "Why doctor you didn't even look at my tongue." To which he replied: "Well, you don't look for grass on a racetrack."

Borrowed But Good—
A man was looking for his wife and inquired of a housemaid: "Do you happen to know anything of my wife's whereabouts?"
"I'm not sure, sir," replied the careful domestic, "but I think they are in the wash."

High School Stuff—
"John," said the teacher, "what are the effects of heat and cold?"
"Heat expands and cold contracts," answered John.
"Now give me examples."
"In summer the days are long, and in winter they are short."

So They Say
The protective isolation of our war plants cannot be taken for granted in another war, because of the almost certain development of heavy bombers capable of reaching any objective in this country.—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

In many instances today men of the navy are pushed beyond the limit of human endurance. They develop anxiety states. Even if he is discharged, it does not mean that such a man is unfit for civil life.—Cmdr. Francis J. Braceland, navy neuropsychiatrist.

The seizure of Saipan constitutes a major breach in the Japanese line of inner defenses, and it is our intention to capitalize upon this breach with all the means available.—Adml. Chester W. Nimitz's communique.

If we can have some civilian production without hurting the war effort, we should do so. We want to be able to say when the boys come back that we have kept a decent country ready for them where they can get jobs.—Maury Maverick, WPB vice-chairman.

The Daily Washington . . . Merry-go-round

. . . by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—As President Roosevelt officially opens his campaign for re-election, he is less confident of winning than he was at the same moment in 1940. He has admitted privately that Dewey has been hitting pay dirt during his travels through the west.

Evidence that the president knows he has a battle on his hands came the other day when a close White House adviser visited him and had a talk about politics. "How does the election look?" the president asked.

"Well, Mr. President, I think the Democrats are suffering from over-confidence. However, some people are confident that re-election is in the bag," replied the presidential caller.

"Oh no," said the president, "it's not in the bag. I'll tell you when it's in the bag. You'll know we are winning when the right time comes."

"How will we know?" asked his friend.

"We'll know," the president answered, "when the Wall Street boys start coming to Democratic headquarters just before election day and offer to contribute to my campaign. Whenever the Wall Street boys come around with those contributions, it means that they're licked and we're sure to win."

The Three themes struck by the Dewey crowd which disturb the Roosevelt camp are his assaults on the Roosevelt labor record; on the alleged plan to delay discharging servicemen; and the Republican assault on Sidney Hillman and the CIO-PAC.

Actually, Roosevelt considers his labor record better than ever before in U. S. history. However, Dewey's attacks have confused a lot of workers. White House aides also point to the recent alarm in army camps over Dewey's charge that the New Deal wants to keep men in the service.

As to Hillman and the PAC, recent White House surveys show this attack is having a strong effect on farmers—a group which the president has already largely lost.

All this adds up to a growing feeling in White House circles that unless the president hammers hard on domestic as well as foreign issues, he may go down to defeat in November. As a result, top Roosevelt advisers have urged a ringing re-affirmation of the New Deal and a pledge that the early spirit of the New Deal will be extended after the war.

The same group are also urging Roosevelt to make an extensive stumping tour of the country, all the way to the West Coast and back. However, while Roosevelt agrees he'll have to unearth "Dr. New Deal" and soon bury "Dr. Win-the-War," he's still not sold on a coast-to-coast campaign swing.

Two Nebraska Senators
When Pennsylvania's Senator Joe Guffey put a verse tribute to the late great George Norris in the Congressional Record last week, congressional courtesy caused him to delete one stanza. The poem, entitled "White Foam Breaking," was written by John Beecher and contained a reference to Republican whip Senator Kenneth Wherry, the Nebraska undertaker who has fallen woefully short of Norris in representing the people of Nebraska.

The censored stanza read: "After forty years in the Congress of the United States, George Norris died simply a citizen."

And, in the Senate seat which he had made more feared by the strong few,

LEN and Sue had prophesied what Margaret would be saying on her way home after their dinner the night before. She had gone them one better: "Well, of all the terrible couples I ever met! Lord, what could they ever have seen in each other?"

What had long since learned not to defend people from Margaret's instant and permanent prejudices, and had simply murmured: "Tastes differ."

"Their son is just what you'd expect from such a couple," Margaret had persisted. "He barged into the house as if he were charging a Japanese pill-house, or whatever you call it. And you sat there and let him carry off your daughter as if he were a Nazi. Not that she didn't love it!"

What had also learned that defending his daughter only added fat to the fire. When they had reached their apartment, and found that Jennifer was not there and had not been there, he had gone to his room, thinking heaven now for Margaret's once-so-bitter demand for a separate room of her own.

If Jennifer couldn't take care of herself, he could not accomplish that miracle for her. So he had fallen asleep, having had a hard day at the office, and a harder night, with another hard day ahead of him.

The next morning he breakfasted alone, and got away to his office without learning when Jennifer got in or what her mother said to her, if anything.
That night a business conference kept him downtown for dinner, and did not release him till so late that when he reached home his wife's door was closed as a mute rebuke. He was glad when her rebukes were mute.

THE next afternoon he kept his engagement to play golf with Len Beckley. A light, coquettish gale played havoc with the accuracy of both their shots, but tative George Outland, California Democrat and one of the more prominent first-term men in the House, delivered a speech ripping apart some of the recent talks by Governor Dewey.

The other day, majority leader John McCormack of Massachusetts reminded the House that, shortly after Dewey was nominated, he told a press conference he would not repeal "any of the New Deal legislation." McCormack referred to the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Social Security Board, and others.

Furiously, reactionary Representative Harold Knutson of Minnesota shot at him that "Dewey never said any such thing."

McCormack ignored the interruption and continued, only to have Knutson repeat his statement. Then, in a rage, Knutson shouted: "I deny it!"
The majority leader, forgetting House customs of address, shot back at Knutson:
"The Master is come, and calleth for thee.—She arose quickly, and came unto him." (John 11:28, 29).

CONDITIONS WILL BE MET.

The post-war world will have many changes, and the Mortuary business will be no exception. As in the past we will be in position to meet any changes necessary.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exclusively prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy, it helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Answer Roll Call With 'How to Relax'

The Bothwell Homemakers club met with Mrs. Charles Wise recently.

Lunch was served at noon.

Mrs. Earle Dirck gave the devotional service and Miss Bothwell presided over the business meeting. "How I Relax" was the subject of roll call. It was voted to give a sum toward a show case at the courthouse.

After the hostess opened her gift packages, the meeting dismissed to meet next with Mrs. N. J. Knutz October 19.

Traffic Bond Forfeited

A. B. Green, 815 South Vermont, charged with overtime parking, forfeited a one-dollar bond in police court Saturday morning, when he failed to appear in police court.

Aged Man Injured

SEDALIA ARMY AIR FIELD, WARRENSBURG—G. L. Walker, 73 years old, of Warrensburg, was severely injured at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning when the Warrensburg bus struck a tractor on Highway 50 near Knob Noster. He was removed to the Warrensburg clinic, where he was treated for a dislocated hip.

Shops and Rails

F. G. Rose, chief booster, last week entered the company hospital in St. Louis for medical treatment.

C. F. Longstreth, representative of the publicity department of the Missouri Pacific, was in Sedalia Friday taking pictures at the local shops.

J. B. Waters, electrical inspector, and Larry Verbar, supervisor of air conditioning, with headquarters in St. Louis, were at the local shops last week on business.

Rex Dotson, electrician, left last week for Atchison, Kas., where he has accepted the position as electrician at the Missouri Pacific roundhouse in Atchison.

Doyle Woodward, machinist helper, last week underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Bothwell hospital. He is getting along satisfactorily.

J. J. Byrnes, Little Rock, Ark., general chairman of the Railway Carmen, was in Sedalia Thursday on business.

C. H. Williams, boilermaker, last week entered the company hospital in St. Louis for physical examination.

W. J. Lacy, supervisor Bridge and Building Department at Jefferson City, was in Sedalia last week on business.

Missouri Pacific locomotives 1420, 2111, 1457, 1482, 1420 and 1558 have been released for service after undergoing a general overhauling at the local shops. Locomotive 16 was taken out for a bread-in Saturday evening.

Mrs. Rex Warren, wife of machinist Warren, left Sunday morning for Parsons, Kas., where she has been called by the serious illness of her mother.

T. F. Segers, wheel shop foreman, was a business visitor in St. Louis last week. W. L. Matthews, axle turner, handled the duties for Mr. Segers.

H. M. Kelly, general car foreman, is taking a two weeks vacation.

Suffers Injuries In Fall

Miss Ella Thornbro fell at the home of Mrs. Percy Nace in Warrensburg Monday, breaking her wrist and sustaining bruises. For many years she had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Foster in Knob Noster and had gone to Warrensburg just a few weeks ago.

Collect Fats Next Saturday

The next Girl Scout waste fat drive will be Saturday, September 30. It will be their fifteenth collection. To date they have collected 11,757 pounds, and hope to add considerably to that amount at the next collection.

They will call at the home Saturday morning, so be ready for them, with the fat out of the refrigerator so it may be easily poured into the container they will have with them.

The waste fats are sorely needed by the war department. Any kind of fat will yield crystal-clear ingredients needed to make the tons of battlefield medicines and munitions so necessary to fight the war to a finish.

One tablespoon of fat will make enough vaccine compound to protect 75 men, or five machine gun bullets, to drop a couple of Japs. Saving fat is a small thing to do, and easy to do if you just remember.

It doesn't matter how burned or blackened it is.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Lyman Hall, son of Mrs. Lyman B. Hall, has been appointed commercial agent for the Cotton Belt railway at San Antonio, Texas, and left last night for Texas to enter on his duties.

H. B. Shain addressed an enthusiastic meeting of Democratic voters at Hughesville Friday night discussing national, state and county issues. After the address a Democratic club was formed with a membership of fifty voters. Officers will be named later.

Cyrus P. Walbridge, Republican nominee for governor, and John E. Swanger, nominee for secretary of state, gave addresses at the opening of the campaign in Pettis county by the Republicans. Two Sedalia bands and the Sweet Springs band furnished music for the rally and a display by the Republican Flambeau club in a parade that evening.

Dr. W. J. Ferguson's horse, "Wilkes G," won in the matinee races Friday afternoon it being a free-for-all trot. M. B. Coleman's stepper was second.

Charles O. Essig, formerly of Fort Wayne, Ind., has accepted a position as advertising manager on the Democrat's staff.

GSO Meet To Plan Program

The Girls Service Organization met Thursday night at the USO with Major Ingram of the SAAF as the speaker addressing the group on "The Feeling of Men turning Home From Overseas."

Eighty-six attended the meeting over which Miss Dorothy Bacon, GSO president, presided.

During the business meeting a nominating committee was appointed of which Miss Ann Brown is chairman. Plans were made for the fall and winter program and election of officers will be held in October.

Mrs. Carl Urban presented pins to young women who had served fifty hours and service certificates to those who had served one hundred hours.

Ribbons were given to members of the soft ball team which won first places in the tournament.

Mrs. Ingram, wife of Major Ingram, was a special guest.

WHEN FATHER BEGINS to SCOWL at his lamp

... it's a clear call for "LIGHT CONDITIONING"

FOR an inquiring scowl at your lamp indicates that your eyes are questioning the light you have.

"Light conditioning" simply means having enough of the right kind of light for seeing comfort and safety.

Do you know how much light you need? Do you know, for example, that you need three times as much light to read a newspaper with the same ease as you read a well-printed book? Why not let us help you check your lighting, and offer definite suggestions for "light conditioning" in your home? There is no charge for this service. Incidentally, you'll probably be surprised to learn how little good lighting costs... at today's low rates for current.

Mrs. Eugene Strelow, 1204 West Second street, has received word that her brother, Pfc. William Bedford Corson, has returned from overseas where he has been since January 1942 and is now in Los Angeles, Calif., with his wife. Pfc. Corson entered service from Sedalia in November 1940.

Staff Sgt. Robert D. Stuckey, at Columbus, Ind., at his home there on a 21-day delay enroute to a new station, was the subject of an article in the Columbia Republican, of September 12. He had arrived in Columbus less than five days after leaving England.

Sgt. Stuckey, as a boy attended Broadway school in Sedalia, and started in Smith-Cotton high school, but completed his high school course in Indiana. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Stuckey lived at 416 West Sixteenth street. His father was employed at the Missouri Pacific shops. The family left Sedalia in 1935.

The subject of the sketch is a cousin of Mrs. E. C. Coons, 1521 South Vermont avenue.

Sgt. Stuckey, bomber engineer-gunner on a B-24 Liberator holds the air medal and three oak clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross. He left England on Tuesday night and arrived on the east coast Wednesday afternoon. He went to a camp in the states, then to visit his wife and parents at Columbus, arriving there Saturday afternoon.

He has been in the army over two years, ten months overseas, and has seen action at the front. He was wounded twice slightly by flak, once in the left leg, and once in the back.

British Second Army In Relief March Near To "Lost Division"

The high command forces the collapse of fortifications to the west. Standing at bay on their home soil, the German troops gave no indication of flight even though they finally were routed from Stolberg.

Nor was there any sign of enemy weakening on the Third army front, where on the plains of Lorraine east of Nancy the biggest tank battle ever fought on French soil thundered into its fifth day.

But as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared in a press conference at an advanced command post in France, the military position of Germany is hopeless and the length of the war depends upon how long the army can stand the terrific pounding from west, south and east and upon how long the Gestapo can rule the Reich.

Eisenhower asserted the Germans could no longer mount a really effective counteroffensive, and further fighting meant only further destruction for Germany without changing the outcome.

The Germans suffered another blow to their manpower in the fall of the Breton port of Brest, it was officially announced. The bag of prisoners was 36,389, the second largest roundup of the enemy in the battle of France.

Die Rather Than Retreat
Hundreds of Hitler's soldiers died in their tracks rather than retreat as the British Second army fought up opposite Arnhem.

A Dutch government spokesman said the Germans had flooded the entire western stretch of Holland from Amsterdam 70 miles south through Utrecht and Breda, isolating the big city of Rotterdam.

Radio Orange, free Netherlands station in London, reported the Germans were preparing to destroy the great harbor works at Amsterdam.

The Canadian First army wiped out the last German positions south of the Leopold Canal and pressed enemy remnants into a narrow strip 28 miles long on the south bank of the Scheldts from Zeebrugge eastward to Terneuzen.

Southeast of Stolberg, concentrated artillery fire broke up a big German counterattack with heavy losses.

The enemy threw more tanks and infantry into a strong counterattack east of the Luxembourg town of Diekirch, forcing the Americans to give some ground. Resistance also was stiffening near the Siegfried line fortress of Prum.

The whole First army front was more or less static as the Germans sapped their fighting strength in counterattacks.

The Seventh army on the south flank fought into the foothills of the Vosges mountains, and closed to within 14 miles northwest of the Rhineland gateway of Belfort by capturing Melisay.

North of this fighting, the Seventh bolstered its positions at Epinal and closed in nearer to the important highway focal point of Remiremont. The Seventh also held on to its crossings of the upper Moselle river.

Many Attend Church Rally

One hundred ninety members of the Broadway Presbyterian church gathered at the church dining room Friday evening for the annual Sunday school rally dinner.

Class tables were decorated and a committee of judges consisting of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Williamson and C. L. Dotson, secretary of the school, presented awards as follows: primary department, primary table first (Mrs. A. L. Lacer, Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., and Mrs. Gordon Callis, teachers), beginners second (Mrs. J. E. Morrow and Mrs. Minter Ringen, teachers); junior department, boys' class, first (Miss Lida Burress, teacher), girls' class, second (Mrs. P. M. Crafon and Mrs. George Curnutt, teachers); intermediate department, girls' table, first (Mrs. Grace Hall, teacher), and boys' class, second (Mrs. John Miers, teacher); youth department, first award to Miss Eunice Cousley's class and second to Mrs. Clyde Heynen's class; adult department, first award to Mrs. J. E. Cannady's adult women's class and second to the men's Bible class, R. F. Harris, teacher. Table decorations were judged on the bases of Christian teaching value, originality and beauty.

The Misses Louise Crowley and Dorothy Spellmeyer presented a group of accordion selections and Dr. R. C. Williamson gave a brief address. Clyde Heynen, superintendent of the school, presided.

Departments are: Mrs. J. E. Brennenman, primary; Mrs. H. M. Janssen, junior-intermediate; and Howard Mobley, youth-adult.

Tracys Leave For Topeka To Make Home

Former Hotel Manager To Manage Club

Mr. and Mrs. Al Tracy, residents of Sedalia since 1927, are leaving this week for Topeka, Kas., where they will assume management of the Topeka Country club, on or about October 1. They will occupy an apartment at the club.

Mr. Tracy for 16½ years manager of the Bothwell hotel in Sedalia, came to Sedalia with Mrs. Tracy at the opening of the hotel in June, 1927. He asked for, and was granted a leave of absence more than a year ago, and since then Mr. and Mrs. Tracy have been residing in the Mrs. Florence Cotten home, 1403 West Fourth street.

They have been active in civic affairs during their residence here, affiliating with many organizations. Mrs. Tracy, a musician and singer, is a member of the Helen G. Steele Music club, and always very graciously gave her time and talent for musical programs.

In referring to the change Mr. and Mrs. Tracy express regret on leaving their many friends in Sedalia, are appreciative of the courtesies extended them during their residence here, but believe their is a more advantageous business opportunity for them in Topeka, than in Sedalia, at the present time.

The home they are vacating will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boots, who are moving to Sedalia from Burlington, Iowa. They are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy. Mr. Boots has purchased a rock quarry near Sedalia.

Woman Travels Via Horse And Buggy Route

1928, starting out in my home town and working in Michigan. In 1937 I had pneumonia and lost my left lung, and had to go away. I went down to Washington D. C., Maryland and in Virginia where I took up my work. In 1938 my husband, Harry Nathan Hamilton died in Harrietta, Mich., but I couldn't go back because I was too poorly to take a chance.

"I've been on the road since 1939. I took out across country, then going to Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and Oregon, where I preached and did my work. Out west, just before the war came, I turned in some people who I thought were spies and they turned out to be just that. I'm loyal to my church and to my country and I think anyone who says anything about our country should be arrested, and I tell you I've turned in plenty."

"Besides being a minister I also think I should consult with my God first, and next the sheriff, if I see things ain't going just right." She said. About this time up drives two Sedalia police officers George Riley and John Neitzert and she recited that part of her story all over to them.

Continuing, she said "with this outfit, I had two horses instead of one, I took part in a covered wagon parade in Salt Lake City, Utah, and I won a $500 defense prize, that was two years ago last July 12. The reason I had two horses was because I took the mountains of Colorado on my return trip and had to have them get over the mountains. I went out west the other way, and decided a change would do me good and I wanted to see the country anyway."

"I have traveled between 16 and 20 thousand miles by horse and buggy. I get between twenty-four and thirty miles a day, when going ain't hilly. It does have this rationing business beat on gasoline, but it is slower. I travel three or four days and rest my horse two to three days. He can't go on long stretches without a rest, you know."

Accompanied By Dog
"I enjoy my companions, Honey Suckie and Jackie Wonder," she said. Honey Suckie is the mother of Jackie Wonder, they are full blooded Doberman pinscher dogs. Honey Suckie is sure no visitor comes too close to the buggy and certainly her belongings are safe with the dog.

"So's you'll understand, I disposed of my team June 14 down in southern Missouri and got this horse. She was poorly when I got her, but I've fattened her up a bit, her ribs used to show, but they don't now," she said.

She said she was born in Waxford county, Michigan October 4, 1888.

Cheer Leaders Of S-C Classes

Junior and Senior high school cheer leaders were elected Friday at Smith Cotton. The winning teams are to be assisted by the losing ones in order to have a bigger cheering team.

The winning senior team is Mary and Mable Albertson. They are to be assisted by: Mary Alice Hoffman, Wanda Brown, Bill Meuchke, Delores Hanigan, Maurine Scruton, Pauline Milburn, and Almeda Albertson.

Barbara Brimmer, Glen McVey and Ann Regan were elected junior cheer leaders with Charles and Charla Edwards assisting.

Mrs. Margaret Baker, Kansas City; one nephew, Pvt. Leonard Poindester, somewhere in Australia, and six grandchildren.

The body is at the Ferguson's the sand while the storms of Europe and Asia were headed our way, who said that the lend-lease bill 'would bring an end to free government in the United States,' and who said 'only hysteria entertains the idea that Germany, Italy or Japan contemplate war upon us' he said.

"These, he declared, are the 'very men who are now seeking the right to conduct the nation's foreign and military policies."

Turns On "Old Guard"
"There are enlightened, liberal elements in the Republican party and they have fought hard and honorably to bring the party up to date and get it in step with the forward march of American progress," he said. "But those liberal elements were not able to drive the old guard Republicans from their entrenched positions."

Then, accusing the opposition of trying to take over credit for the social progress of his own administration, Mr. Roosevelt asked, "can the old guard pass itself off as the new deal?"

"I think not. 'We have all seen many marvelous stunts in the circus but no performing elephants could turn a handspinning without falling flat on his back.'"

Mr. Roosevelt poked fun at the Republican platform plank which he said "accepts the purpose" of the National Labor Relations Act, the Wage and Hour Act, the Social Security Act and other federal social laws, declaring:

"Many of the Republican leaders and congressmen and candidates who shouted enthusiastic approval of that plank x x x would not even recognize these progressive laws, if they met them in broad daylight."

He said that as a matter of fact they have spent years of energy and money "fighting every one of those laws."

Mr. Roosevelt said there are "labor baiters" in his opposition who prefer to "pick on the occasional strikes which have occurred—strikes which have been condemned by every responsible national labor leader, every national leader except one."

One Not Supporter
"And that one labor leader, incidentally," he said, "is certainly not among my supporters."

The President used no name in that connection but his reference obviously was to John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, who is a fourth term opponent.

"Labor baiters forget," he said, "the record of war production and prefer to concentrate on the strikes, even though 'the fact is that since Pearl Harbor only one tenth of one per cent of man-hours have been lost by strikes.'"

The President took his listeners back to 1932, a period he described in these words:

"Closed banks and the bread lines and starvation wages."

He said some politicians find it convenient to forget that period, "but the record is not to be washed away that easily."

He termed "the most ridiculous of these campaign falsifications" an assertion that his administration failed to prepare for war.

"I doubt whether even Goebbels would have tried that one," he said.

Republican leaders in and out of congress attempted to block defense measures, he charged, and added:

"Many of those very same leaders x x x are still in control of the Republican party, were in control of its national convention in Chicago, and would be in control of the machinery of the congress and of the Republican party in the event of a Republican victory this fall x x x."

Move To Keep Peace
Mr. Roosevelt said there are tasks ahead which "we must now complete with the same will and skill and intelligence and devotion which have already led us so far on the road to victory."

They include, he said, the job of a speedy total victory with the least cost of lives, the task of setting up international machinery to keep the peace, and of reconvertng our own economy from war to peace.

"These peace building tasks were faced once before nearly a generation ago," he declared. "They were botched by a Republican administration. That must not happen this time. We will not let it happen this time."

Victory, he said, will be a "victory for democracy. It will constitute such an affirmation of the strength and power and validity of the government by the people as history has never before witnessed."

"With that affirmation of the validity of Democratic government behind us, that demonstration of its resilience and its capacity for decision and for action—with God's help to the greatest epoch of free achievement by free men the world has ever known or imagined possible."

Split In Group On The German Peace Policy

story of the postwar German state. 3. Cession of the Saar and western German industrial areas to France as well as cession to Poland of eastern German areas which Russia might want handled that way.

4. Dissolution of large German landholdings into small farms which would enable the 40 to 50 million people remaining in Germany to exist largely on an agricultural basis.

5. Refusal by other countries to extend any assistance, economic or otherwise, to the people of Germany so that they would have to make their own way as best they could out of the wreckage of their war on Europe.

6. Prolonged control of Germany by an Allied or United Nations military commission.

7. No outright reparations—since a German agricultural state with little or no commerce would not be able to pay them—although distribution of German machinery might be considered as reparations in some respects.

Hot Arguments

The principal criticisms which have been leveled against this plan by War and State Department planners is that it will not work because Germany occupies a key position in European economy due to her industrial capacity to produce needed goods and because of the markets she affords other European countries.

Until Morgenthau dropped his proposals in the hopper and won Presidential support for them it had been tentatively planned that Germany would be permitted to function as an industrial state after surrender but under Allied military and economic controls that would deny her any opportunity to become a great war-making state.

To date Morgenthau's plan has served as a basis for hot arguments in the secret sessions of War, State, Treasury and other government agency experts charged with evolving practical controls for the Reich of the future.

It has been instrumental also in bringing about modifications of the basic handbook being prepared by the government for the guidance of military administrators in postwar Germany.

Postwar Germany is defined by these experts as the German state which will come into existence sometime after the armistice. The first period of German occupation already is beginning with the advance of Allied armies onto German soil. It was with this period in mind that General Dwight D. Eisenhower as Allied supreme commander yesterday announced the directives for control of Germany by Allied combat commanders.

It now is expected here that Eisenhower will serve as American military chief in the Reich until the second period of occupation sets in after the war but whether that period will be one of three-way occupation under a three-power commission as originally planned or whether it will follow the Morgenthau plan more closely evidently now remains to be determined.

Morgenthau always has been regarded by his associates as an advocate of ruthless handlings of Germany after the war. His interest in detailed planning, however, is reported to stem from his trip to England and France a month and a half ago.

In London also Morgenthau came upon the draft of a booklet designed to instruct Allied military government officers in handling German affairs once the Reich is completely occupied. One paragraph of this booklet prescribed a daily food allowance for the Germans with a calory value higher than that allowed for the friendly peoples of liberated countries.

On returning to Washington the Treasury secretary reported this fact to Mr. Roosevelt with thereupon wrote Secretary-Stimson directing that the handbook be written to incorporate provisions for a tough handling of Germany.

Those familiar with the work of the committee say that thus far its work has shown no ground for a meeting of minds between Stimson and Morgenthau as to the policy to be allowed, beyond the fact that both agree, as does Mr. Hull, that, by whatever means, Germany must be rendered unable to make war in future.

Charge Filed On Truck Lines

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 23—(AP)—William A. Schien, Sedalia truck line operator, was charged in federal district court here today with permitting, or requiring, his truck drivers to drive more than 10 hours a day or 60 hours a week and with failing to require a certificate of physical fitness for a new driver.

The maximum penalty is $100 on each of the 25 counts alleging violations of the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The charges were filed by Sam Hargus, assistant U. S. district attorney for the Western District of Missouri, on complaint of an ICC investigator who alleged some of Schien's drivers worked more than 90 hours a week.

Dewey Calls For Program To Give Added Benefits

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Outlining a program to "pick up and carry forward an American system of social progress," Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Friday night proposed broadening and strengthening the Social Security Act, unemployment insurance and others means to this end.

He also called for development of a program to assure medical service to those who cannot otherwise obtain it, describing this as "a task that must be carried out in cooperation with our medical men."

"The Social Security Act should be amended to provide old age and survivors' insurance," the Republican presidential nominee said, "for those who most desperately need protection and are not now covered by Social Security or some other pension or retirement system."

The New York governor, in a prepared speech broadcast from the Los Angeles coliseum, said 20,000,000 Americans—"farmers and farm workers, domestic workers, employees of non-profit enterprises, many government employees, and those who work for themselves"—are left without this protection as the law now stands.

He described "difficulties of administration" as "not a good enough answer" for failure to include people not now protected, said the proposed changes would involve many problems.

Gap In Credits

Dewey called for a prompt change in the law to correct "injustice" to service men and women, declaring those who once worked in jobs covered by old-age insurance and stepped out of them for military service suffer a gap in their old-age benefit credits under the present law.

Describing employment service and unemployment insurance as "clearly" parts of the same job, he suggested that they be handled in the same office by the same administrator.

"To provide benefits without providing employment service is to do less than half the job," he said. "After all, it is another job a man wants—and as soon as possible."

Taking up the assurance of medical service, Dewey declared:

"There can be no group better able to advise on medical care than the medical profession. Yet, unhappily, this is the very group which the new deal has managed to alienate. Our free and independent medical profession has advanced medical science in America ahead of every other nation in the world. Its freedom has made it great. It should be encouraged, not discouraged. Let us enlist the leadership and aid of the doctors of America in organizing our private and public hospitals as well as our other services into a fully effective system to protect the health of all our people."

Dewey, calling the "G. I. bill of rights" a non-partisan law, said it was "not all that needs to be done," and declared that the states and local communities "must be encouraged to establish the fullest information service for veterans."

His conclusion stressed the themes of "freedom and opportunity" which have marked his three previous major west coast campaign talks. Security alone, he said, is only half the goal. "The other half is freedom and opportunity," he declared. "Without these, there can be no real security."

Sedalians At Conference

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Southwest Missouri Methodist conference voted Friday to cooperate with the general church conference in its call for $25,000,000 to rebuild mission fields disrupted by the war and to carry on an aggressive religious campaign in the post-war program.

Campaign for the fund for missions throughout the world will be launched in December and will continue until January, 1946. District superintendents of the Southwest Missouri area and Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will hold a conference on the Crusade for Christ campaign next week in St. Louis.

A report on the church's part in the post-war program was presented by J. F. King of Sedalia, chairman of the commission on world service and finance. It was asked that district superintendents hold their first quarterly conferences with churches in their districts before the opening of the fund campaign so as not to conflict with efforts between the regular benevolent program of the conference and the crusade.

Homer U. Campbell of Sedalia was reelected conference treasurer and Lee F. Soxman of Independence was named conference missionary chairman.

War Mothers Enjoy Banquet At USO Club Friday Night

The banquet given Friday evening at the USO in honor of the War Mothers club was attended by about ninety persons.

The tables were placed in U shape and were artistically decorated by Mrs. Frank Leach, Mrs. W. O. Harris, Mrs. Harvey Keens and Mrs. M. P. Shy. Containers of autumn flowers were placed at intervals along the tables and a trellis of white clematis run the entire length. Flowers were donated by Mrs. Finis Nicholas, Mrs. J. E. Bagby, Mrs. P. L. Stroie, Mrs. Charles Bard, Mrs. Ed Hilderbrandt and Miss Sena Maas.

The following program was presented: "America" led by Sgt. Kenneth Lawrence. Invocation by Chaplain Willis M. Lewis.

A welcome to the guests by Mrs. Carl Topporoff, acting president of the Service Wives club.

Mrs. O. C. Blankenship, president of the War Mothers club responded.

Miss Frances Brunchorst sang two numbers, "My Kind of People," and "The American Prayer."

Sgt. Lawrence sang, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and Pfc. Maurice Fichendler played three violin selections, "When a Gypsy Makes His Violin Cry," "Two Guitars" and Hungarian Dance No. 5. Cpl. Leach Zinner accompanied both Sgt. Lawrence and Pfc. Fichendler.

Cpl. Zinner played two piano solos, "Chopin Waltz No. 7," and "Russell of Spring."

Speakers The address of the evening was made by Chaplain Lewis talking on the privilege of being a chaplain, which seemed to be an answer to all of the questions in every mother's mind and heart.

Cpl. Orville M. Brown talked on "Front View Impressions."

Wayne Van Zandt, director of the local USO, introduced the guests and closed the program.

The program was announced by Mrs. Harry Burford, secretary of the Service Wives club and had been prepared under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Beach, USO assistant.

Food Committee Members of the Service Wives club who were on the food committee and served the meal were Mrs. Melvin Collins, Mrs. Dorothy Hayes, Mrs. Robert Seelen, Mrs. Robert Zink, Mrs. William Osborne, Mrs. Herman Myers, Jr., Mrs. Harry Daw, Mrs. Lynne Shelby, Mrs. B. C. Harding, Mrs. H. Shaffer, Mrs. James Stepp, Jr., Mrs. Carl Topporoff, Mrs. Peggy Dickinson, Mrs. John Towers, Mrs. Donald Fontaine, Mrs. Harry Burford, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. P. A. Costello, Mrs. June Tuckie and Mrs. Roy Renno. Mrs. Clifford Hayes served on the telephone committee.

A committee of interested mothers prepared the main meat dish. They were Mrs. A. Maxwell, Mrs. C. S. Woodard, Mrs. R. E. Taylor, Mrs. George Lively, and Mrs. R. L. Weinrich.

Mrs. Elizabeth McGurren, chairman of the Service Wives Counsel, with Mrs. Wayne Van Zandt, Mrs. O. L. Heckart, Mrs. Herman Myers and Mrs. A. R. Beach, were in charge of the dining room and kitchen arrangements.

Tomatoes for the dinner were donated by Mrs. Fred Staley, Jr. Three War Dads, O. C. Blankenship, E. E. Shaw and Joe Kirkman dropped in during the evening and assisted in serving the dessert.

There are over one hundred members in the organization and a brief history of the club follows:

History of Club On Sunday April 4, 1943 a number of mothers with sons and daughters in service met at the East Sedalia Baptist church to talk over and make plans for the organization of a War Mothers club.

Mrs. O. C. Blankenship called the meeting to order and Rev. W. P. Arnold, then pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, spoke on the subject, "Things That War Mothers Have in Common."

The mothers discussed an organization and nearly all were in favor of it. They had an election of officers and a committee was appointed to write a constitution and by-laws. It was decided to meet in the church basement on the second and fourth Fridays of each month.

Worthwhile Club Since the organization of the club it has done many worthwhile things. They have been sewing for the men at the Air Base making card table covers, fixing curtains and doing any mending needed. Every third Monday they go to the base to sew for the soldiers and on Wednesday work in the Red Cross rooms.

Several dinners have been given by the club at the church, and at Easter the members made cookies and sent them to the base hospital. Donations have been given by the club to the Red Cross, the Service Board and for smokes for boys overseas. A committee from the club sends cards to the boys on their birthdays and on special holidays, and plans are now being made to do something for the boys and girls in service at Christmas time.

The club took part in the memorial services held Memorial day. Officers of the club are: Mrs. O. C. Blankenship, president; Mrs. W. D. Kuykendall, vice president; Mrs. A. M. Cowherd, secretary; Mrs. Porter Morton, associate secretary and Mrs. Walter Hunter, treasurer.

Mark Twain PTA Meeting

The first meeting of the year of Mark Twain Parent-Teacher association Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the school was well attended. Mrs. J. B. Drake presided over the business meeting and Mrs. L. W. Duly gave the devotional service.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Max Fischer was elected as delegate to the convention to be held in Joplin next month and Mrs. Noel Tweet was elected alternate.

The following musical program was presented: violin solo, "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," Jo Ann Pasley, accompanied by Dorothy Ann Reed; clarinet solo, "Long, Long Ago," Marvin Gene Lankenau, accompanied by Miss Hazel Harris; piano solo, "Rhapsody in Blue," Miss Hazel Harris.

At the close of the program, an informal tea, with new patrons and teachers as special honorees, was enjoyed.

Club Meets at Mewes Home

Oak Grove Extension club held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. W. C. Mewes with Miss Myrtle Mewes assisting. Health rules were given in answer to roll call.

Mrs. Elmer Mewes reported 10 red and blue ribbons received by Oak Grove 4-H club members and the sponsor invited the club members to attend a wiener roast at the club house September 20. Mrs. H. A. Wilson gave a report on the health meeting she had attended and demonstrated the back rest for invalids she had made.

It was decided to make cookies for the next blood bank. Plans for a display at Pettis county achievement day were discussed.

Two former members, Mrs. John Needy and daughter, Mrs. Clarence Roe, as well as several children, were guests.

The club will meet with Mrs. Fred W. Welling in October. Mrs. W. W. Bolton will be assistant hostess.

Compile List Of Speakers SEDALIA ARMY AIR FIELD—A list of officers and enlisted men with combat experience overseas has just been compiled at Sedalia Army Air Field to make experienced speakers on military topics available to Sedalia and Warrensburg organizations desiring to hear men from the air field.

Red Cross Corner

Attention Please! There will be a meeting of all Nurse Aides, Monday night, September 25, 7:30, at Red Cross headquarters, 404½ South Ohio avenue. All members of the Nurse Aide Corps, both active and inactive, are urged to be present.

Mrs. Emmett Hurley has accepted the chairmanship of Red Cross Home Nursing. We have stressed the importance of this program many times, but as the winter of 1944-45 draws close, we feel that the enthusiasm of Sedalia women should be increased in this opportunity offered by the Red Cross. New classes on Home Nursing, with registered nurses as instructors, are being arranged for further particulars, and schedule, call Mrs. Hurley, 3370.

Mrs. H. F. Rapp, Mrs. J. H. Staubli, Mrs. W. E. Scotten, Mrs. J. B. Poundstone, and Mrs. C. A. Wright will represent the Canteen Corps at the SAAF hospital Sunday afternoon.

Those who attended the Red Cross Clinic, held at the Federated church last Wednesday were well pleased with the set-up for this instruction streamliner. Virtually every phase of Volunteer Red Cross work was covered by the representative from the Area Office, and counties sent delegates. Our canteen served luncheon to 50 guests.

M. U. Tigers Lose 6 To 7 To Arkansas

Missouri Scores In Fourth Quarter But Fail For Extra Point

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A perfect placement kick for a point after touchdown gave the University of Arkansas a 7-to-6 victory of the favored University of Missouri Tigers today on the sodden gridiron of Walsh stadium.

Held on the defensive through most of the game, the Razorbacks score came on a blocked punt by Melvin McGaha late in the third quarter. Henry Ford fell on the slippery pigskin in the end zone for a touchdown and Jim Young kicked the extra point.

Missouri, forced to use a running attack when the weather broke up aerial maneuvers, came back midway in the final period with a sustained 66-yard drive and Acting Captain Paul Collins plunged over from the three. Don Litzinger, kicking specialist, was rushed into the game, but his try angled just outside the crossbars.

Time ran out before the Tigers could again move into scoring territory.

The game, witnessed by 8,500 spectators, was the first of the season for both teams.

The Tigers buckled down to their touchdown march apparently aware that their scoring would have to come the hard way if at all. Collins, returned a punt from the Missouri 28 to his 45. On the next play, Bill Dellastatious, halfback, was trapped but he lateraled to Collins who carried to the Arkansas 23.

Collins broke loose again for another eight yards to the Arkansas 14 but Dellastatious fell before he could get the next play under way and the Missourians lost seven. Collins retrieved five and on the fourth down with five still to go he lateraled to Dellastatious in turn flipped to Fullback Max Riley before the play was stopped at the six.

Dellastatious missed the touchdown on the next play by about four feet but Collins promptly sneaked over.

The all-civilian teams resorted only briefly to aerial attacks before settling down to their "T" formations as the safer course in the almost constant drizzle.

Yardage gained by passing was negligible, Arkansas making only one first down and Missouri two by that route. But almost any one of the attempted passes could have been good for a touchdown because what they lacked in precision or ability of the receivers to get under, they could have compensated for in aerial flight. As it was, a few of them came close to completion and more than half of them would have paid off on the score board.

The fact that each team committed only one fumble is an indication of the care with which they went about their work because they could hardly have had worse conditions for ball handling.

The Razorbacks outweighed the Tigers an average of 21 pounds a man, scaling an average of 202 in the line to 181 for Missouri. The Arkansas backfield averaged 189 pounds a man, Missouri 169, and for the teams as a whole, Arkansas 197, Missouri 176.

Arkansas used only 20 men of the 33 available while Missouri used 27 of 44.

Wacs Start Basketball Season

The Wacs "jumped the gun" on the local basketball season last Tuesday by turning out for their first workout on the boards of the Base Gym in anticipation of a busy winter schedule.

Fifteen girls answered the first call and practiced under the keen eye of Cpl. Zook Holmes, who reports his charges as being in good condition.

Probable games will be with girl teams from Warrensburg, Sedalia, and LaMonte. The majority of last year's high-scoring Wac team will be in the line-up again this year, but any additional Wac basketballers are welcome to report for practice on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the gym.

Detroit Defeats Boston 8 To 2

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitched a six-hitter today for his 26th victory of the season as the Detroit Tigers defeated Boston 8 to 2 and eliminated the Red Sox from the American League pennant race.

Boston, losing its third straight game in the series with Detroit here now is nine games behind the Tigers with only eight games left to play.

By winning today's game, and the games won by his teammate Southpaw Harold Newhouser who will face Yank Terry of the Sox in the series finale tomorrow. Each has won 26 games; Trout has lost 12, and Newhouser 9.

Rex Cecil, Boston righthander who started today's game, was the victim of an early inning Tiger attack that counted seven runs in the first three innings. He gave up seven hits and issued six passes to keep in constant trouble.

Aided by four Detroit double plays, Trout held the Sox scoreless and helpless until three errors by the Tiger infield in the eighth gave the Sox a run without the benefit of a hit.

Merchants To Marshall For Today's Game

Injuries And Illness Handicaps Local Club For Contest Today

The Sedalia Merchants baseball team will journey to Marshall where they are scheduled to meet the Marshall team for the second time this season. The Merchants winning the first game by a score of 2 to 1 in 12 innings.

Reports from Marshall are that they have added several players in strengthening their team for this game while the Merchants due to illness and injuries will not be up to par. Manager Palmer Nichols will use his star left hander "Hal" Green with Don Weller back of the plate.

The remainder of the lineup will not be announced until game time. The following players will make the trip leaving Hughes at 12:30: Livengood, Ellsworth, Cridder, Woolford, Morris, Dunlap, Green, Weller, Shirley, Williams and Manager Nichols.

Warrensburg Golf Team Vs C. C. Today

Sedalian's Behind In First Half Play By A Total Of 20 Points

The Sedalia Country Club golf team will endeavor to win back 20 points lost to Warrensburg and win their match with the golfing team from Warrensburg on the Sedalia course. Sedalia lost last Sunday to the invaders by a score of 45 points to Sedalia's 25, in the game played at Warrensburg.

Grass greens expect to play an important roll for the Sedalians who had some difficulty on the sand greens of the Warrensburg course, in spite of the fact four Sedalia foursomes defeated Warrensburg's foursomes while only two of their teams won.

One Sedalia team which was expected to have a closer race than the results completely failed and lost 40 points for Sedalia. The other team lost but five points, while the winning teams were able to scratch through with victories of from one to eleven points.

Four Teams Won; Two Lost

The same teams will play today. The first named two players are Sedalians and the last two are Warrensburg and the last week results are as follows:

Willets and Herman won from Dr. Heufle and Martin by one point.

Oswald and Estes defeated Hunley and Cross by six points.

Owens and Neely lost to Raker and Cheatum by forty points.

Young and Yount defeated Hearne and Fogerson by eleven points.

Brown and Ross lost to Stuckey and Allison by five points.

Heerman and Denny won from Six and Sawyer by seven points.

The score is kept by giving each foursome six points to the green divided 3 for the low score, two for the next, one for the next and none for high man. There are six foursomes.

Tourney In Third Rounds

Sixteen players are participating in the 72-hole handicap tournament being played, with the first two 18-holes being lead by Oswald, Junge second and Hausam and Hunter tied for third. The third eighteen holes are being completed and today the last eighteen holes will be started to be completed by next Saturday afternoon.

The total score of each player for the first 32-holes is as follows: (The first figure being the player handicap for each 18 holes, the second the total score for the 32 holes) Oswald 7,149; Junge 9,152; Hausam 11,153; Hunter 14,153; Neef 10,154; Owens 10,155; Yunker 8,155; Campbell 17,155; Dean 14,157; Yount 13,158; Forker 13,158; Ahrens 14,160; Sparr 14,160; Estes 11,161; Ross 18,162; Denny 20,163.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

THE Missouri Conservation Commission has announced open season on Gray Fox in Missouri, due to a petition of farmers signed by 345, and in making this announcement was criticized by some fox hunters—who were defending the foxes. These hunters it seems enjoy running foxes for the sport of the chase and the music of their dogs without making kills.

I think Sydney Stephens, chairman of the commission, gave the proper answer to these sportsmen when he said, "The Commission can hardly ignore these complaints for an organization representing 86,000 farmers." In spite of sports, the farmer must also be given protection for his crops and livestock.

I believe T. C. Wells, a representative of the fox hunter group, is in earnest when he said "I think the fox is getting blamed for a lot of things he doesn't do." But on the other hand the fox has been caught killing livestock, chickens and destroying crops, so what can the Commission do but offer the farmer protection.

Certainly when the statement "I wonder if the increased value of fox furs might have something to do with these requests for a longer hunting season" was made, it was uncalled for.

Mr. Wells accused Wolves, and wild dogs with killings in his defense of the fox. This is nodoubt true, and they should be killed, but as I said before the Fox has been caught doing it as well as the wolves and wild dogs.

CLOSED season on fur bearing animals is a problem for the police—all because a "possum was caught prowling in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kester, 817 West Third street early Saturday morning. You aren't supposed to trap them, you aren't supposed to kill them, but they still prowl and keep the people worried over a prowler.

Mrs. Kester had the noise several times recently, and didn't call police because she thought it might be a dog or a cat, but when at 3:30 o'clock in the morning she just took matters in her own hands and turned on the light and was surprised to see the animal on her back porch kinda staring at her.

WHAT a football game was played last Thursday night at Marshall—it was a thriller from start to finish—some good plays made—and several good lessons learned by the rookies on the Tiger squad. But the game as a whole from experience the players had, was well worth seeing—even if Smith-Cotton lost by a 2 to 0 score.

To the coaches, there was a satisfaction. To the players disappointment because they didn't win—but a thrill for what ever play they succeeded in making even if they missed the first or second, but settled down to make a good one. To the fans good entertainment.

I was on the side where the Tigers were with their coaches and I heard the boys going in and going out. Some just came off the field when a substitute went in and said "shucks", others "what was wrong?" One in particular came in and screamed at Coaches Ligon, Steiner and Dow, "I made one coach, I made one, did you see it, wasn't it a swell block". The coaches smiled and in a nice polite way said "what about the first two you missed." "But I know how now," he said, with satisfaction.

Yes the boys are what one might say "green", but they are willing and those green boys are certainly trying to pull through. Marshall had played one game, defeated Boonville 12 to 0.

Sedalia, I am told, didn't expect to win. They were a little worried over their first game, yet they played Marshall off their feet to my notion, even if one had break did cost them two points. The only thing for them to do now is to make up their minds to win, now that first game is tucked away under their belts.

ed in the seventh by Jonas Berry, was charged with the loss.

The Browns put the game on ice in the second when Milt Byrnes was issued a walk. George McQuinn doubled to center and Byrnes went to third. Byrnes scored and McQuinn moved to third on a wild pitch by Black. Mark Christman singled and McQuinn went across the plate with the winning run.

Philadelphia's lone tally was in the first when Garrison, who had singled, moved to third on Roberto Estalella's double off the right field screen. Garrison scored as Christman threw out Frank Hayes.

Bob Garbark lost a chance to pull the Athletics up even with the Browns when he went in as a pitcher in the ninth. He grounded out to Don Guttridge with two men on and two out. It was the only scoring threat by the Athletics after their run in the first.

Litwhiler Has Batting Spree For Cardinals

Cards Beat Phillies As He Hits A Single, Triple And A Homer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Danny Litwhiler went on a batting rampage against his former teammates to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to 6-2 victory over the Phillies here today.

Litwhiler hit a single, triple and home run, driving in four runs, his 14th homer of the season coming in the seventh with two on base.

Budd Byerly limited the Phils to six hits in chalking up his second victory.

Johnny Hopp, taken ill before the game, was replaced by Augie Bergamo in the outfield.

Handball Courts Completed

The PT Office announces the completion of the outdoor handball courts this coming week, when the playing lines will be marked off. The courts, open to Base personnel at all times, have already had considerable play; and, if enough interest is shown, tournaments will be played. Equipment may be obtained in the Gym from the enlisted men in charge.

Posthumous Award Of High Honor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The congressional medal of honor awarded posthumously to Lieut. Paul F. Riordan who lost his life in a single-handed attack on the city jailhouse in Cassino was presented Saturday to his father, Herbert F. Riordan, Kansas City.

Brig. Gen. William A. Campbell, assistant commandant of the command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kas., made the presentation. Lt. Riordan's mother was also present.

Oil Is Struck In Great Britain

LONDON, Saturday, Sept. 23.—(AP)—They've struck oil in Great Britain.

More than 200 wells now are pumping out 26 million gallons of high grade oil each year, it was disclosed officially today.

Since the war began the field has yielded about 300 thousand tons or about 78 million gallons of oil. The crude oil is described as being of excellent quality, furnishing a base for high grade

Sightless Girl Hears Footstep

Recognizes It In The Walk Of Soldier Fiance

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—(P)—Sightless and with only one hand, a 21-year old blonde arrived by train unaccompanied from Oregon Friday and cried "It's you, it's you," as she recognized the walk of her soldier-fiance, just returned after three years overseas.

Miss Vina Baldwin came prepared for her wedding, sometime before Oct. 14 when Pvt. Foster Pierson, 30, of Independence, Mo., reports to Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

She had with her a wedding gown—a blue silk dress with a white flower on the shoulder—an Hawaiian gift from her husband to be.

And as she waited for him to arrive at the station after a worker at the Traveler's Aid informed him she was here, she told of another gift he'd given her—a Braille edition of the Reader's Digest.

"That was a birthday gift, in July, 1942, and it's been coming ever since," she said.

Takes Care Of Self

Miss Baldwin has taken care of herself for more than a year, living alone in a stationary trailer home but working as a dishwasher in a restaurant. In addition to keeping house, washing, ironing and cooking, she canned thirteen dozen quarts of fruit, vegetables and fish this year.

"Why, I'm going to get married so I had to learn to take care of myself," she remarked. "A girl can't get along in life if she just sits around. She's got to be out and doing things."

Miss Baldwin met Foster five years ago while he was working in her home town of Camas Valley, Ore. That was where the girl lost her sight and hand when she was four years old while playing with dynamite caps left around the house while her parents were blasting to clear a field on their farm. The dynamite exploded blinding her in both eyes and ripping off her left arm below the elbow.

"I was lucky I guess," she said, "I could have been crippled because all of the flesh was torn off my left foot, but the bones were all right."

Bennett To Talk in Holden

Congressman Marion T. Bennett will be the guest speaker at the afternoon session of the meeting of the Sixth District Republican Women's club in Holden Saturday, September 30, at 2 o'clock at the high school. There will be a business meeting of the club at 10:30 a. m. and a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. The western Johnson county Republican Women's club will be hostesses to the other clubs of the district. Mrs. Russell Dean is president of the local club.

The public is invited to attend the luncheon and afternoon meeting. Reservations for the luncheon may be made with Mrs. Clark Ewing of Holden. Officers of the Sixth District club are: Mrs. J. L. Snyder, Holden, president; Mrs. R. A. Thomas, Nevada, secretary;
